since the moment they are born people are divided into talented ones and worthless ones "efford leads to success" is really a huge lie how could world be so simple no matter how worthless people struggle they will never be able to reach talented people people don't become talented, they are born that way that's right... like you that's why i admire you so much

this is like a pure, one-sided love allow me to be your stepping stone to make you sparkle!
if you want to kill me, please let me join your plan!
please help me!
what I wish for is "despair's hope" which can overcome any kind of despair!
I'm not able to shine myself, so I wish to see you guys sparkling feel free to kill me
if it's what you want...

sh-
USUHUUPT

got it
leave the rest to me
I did it?!
nidai!
fast, tie him up!
Hotel Kiral

i think i've been like this
for about 1...
2 days already

.....
i really wish to see everyone breaking one of the greatest despair thanks to togami, everyone has just found the determination to keep living

when i got detained, also monokuma was surely...

koizumi
doing this for a trash like me... i'm so happy
even your kindness is shsl
please help yourself
it would be a pain for us if you were to die that's the only reason why i brought you food then i'm leaving
please wait

why would you need to know it? you're not going to interfere again, are you?
did mono-kuma come up with some new motive?
but as you can see yourself, i'm tied up, so i can't do anything even if i wanted i beg you, koizumi... at least tell me what's happening outside ah... monokuma made a videogame and put it in the central park. he said that's the new motive the name of the game is "Twilight Syndrome Murder Case" there's also something like "the missing link"
then... have you played it already, koizumi?

you can't resolve a problem by avoiding it hope can be called so only after facing despair
i...
didn't play it
ko-izumi

i...
i...
you guys should boldly fight despair
you look pale are you alright?
right?
ah! also...

I just have to change it, right?
I'm sorry for borthering you but . . could you change this for some bread please?
I don't like rice very much. .
goodbye
